ABOUT WESLEY DESIGN

Wesley Design, Inc. approaches each project individually using a wealth of knowledge, experience and creativity for a design as unique as the client. Founded in 1987, the full-service design firm specializes in high-end residential, retail and commercial projects.

Principal designer Susan Wesley, a certified interior designer and professional member of the American Society of Interior Designers, has created beautifully appointed spaces for a long list of distinguished clients across the United States. Highly regarded among her peers, Susan has been selected to design spaces for the Philharmonic House of Design for the past six years. Susan's residential and commercial projects have won numerous distinguished design awards. And her residential designs have been showcased in Coast, Orange Coast and California Homes magazines and on the NBC television program Open House.

Susan literally grew up in the business as the daughter of an architect. She graduated from the prestigious Otis Art Institute of Parsons School of Design in Los Angeles, where she studied under famed architect Frank Gehry. After five years with a design/architectural firm, she opened Wesley Design, Inc. She brings extensive design experience, along with a specialized knowledge of art and antiques to each project.

PROCESS

Wesley Design, Inc. uses a complete service approach by collaborating with an experienced and talented group of local craftsmen and artisans. Susan reduces the stress for clients by providing resources for design projects of any size or budget. Located in the Laguna Design Center in Laguna Niguel, California, Wesley Design, Inc. offers clients a wealth of inspiration.

Current projects include residential new construction and renovation in Dana Point, Newport Coast, Dove Canyon, California, Scottsdale, Arizona and commercial office building remodel in Phoenix, Arizona.

"I've worked with Susan for over a decade on both residential and commercial projects. Susan has an innovative spirit and a positive attitude that makes working with her a joy. My staff enjoys working with Susan because of her professionalism and attention to detail. In addition, I have only received exemplary feedback from all of her clients. Susan is a designer that we will continue to refer out as we respect her and her work."

PRESS

"...Susan listened to our ideas and, keeping in mind our budget, presented us with interesting, affordable and unique ideas. From the very beginning she guided us through the difficult process of the remodel and helped keep us on track with the timing of each phase of the project. She met each challenge with a smile on her face and always showed complete professionalism in dealing with the contractors and vendors who were working on our house."

Peggy Oliva
Client

"...Professionalism at its best. My time was short at the Casa California Project, but my first impression was attention to detail. I was very impressed by her scheduling as well. She was on top of her work in her designated room to the end. A+..."
